

ASBESTOS DEFENSE/TOXIC TORTS/PRODUCT LIABILITY LITIGATION

Cummings & Lockwood has decades of experience in premises and product liability litigation, including coordinating the representation of defendants in personal injury, wrongful death and asbestos suits. Our strength at the negotiation table, as well as before the bench, has earned us the privilege of serving as national counsel to a major oil petrochemical company.

While we recognize the wisdom of resolving most asbestos cases prior to incurring the expense and uncertainty associated with a jury trial, we are fully prepared to pursue this course of action when resolution cannot be achieved out of court. Our attorneys bring deep experience in defending personal injury and wrongful death lawsuits relating to asbestos and other toxin/chemical exposure.

Our practice represents clients in cases involving:

- Asbestos (premises owners and product manufacturers and distributors)
- Benzene
- Chemicals, solvents and other toxins
- Product liability
